Seven Dared To Go
by: MickiFreels

Seven dreamers soared
Where others only dream
They dared to go.
They saw heavens open
Then pushed the edge
So they could know.

Seven took the high road
To discover and inspire
They dared to go.
They set their own legacy
Then broke the surly bonds
Past Mission Control.

Fire in the sky
Born into the Light
Seven who we mourn.
Past the burning blue
Their flight is over
Seven souls are Home.

Seven gave their lives
To the power of His Light
They dared to go.
Past the memory of stars
They reached out thier hands
And now touch the face of God.

Fire in the sky
Born into the Light
Seven we mourn.
Past the burning blue
Their flight is over
Seven souls are Home.

Features
making a statement

The students featured in the section make a statement about Co-Lin in many ways. They are recognized across campus, in the community, and even nation wide.

Each year Co-Lin students vote on who will receive the title, Mr and Miss Co-Lin. They also choose who will be recognized as Class Favorites. Students who accel academically and are involved in many campus activities are nominated for Who's Who and are recognized nation wide. The SGA works hard every year on Homecoming events. Trillium's Annual Beauty Pageant is always a night filled with entertainment and elegance. Those graduating students who truly make a statement at Co-Lin are chosen for the Hall of Fame.

Great things happen to those who are involved in activities on Co-Lin's campus.

Administration, Faculty, & Staff making a statement

The Administration, Faculty and Staff of Co-Lin make a statement about what it takes to keep Co-Lin running efficently. All year they work hard to welcome new students, fill out and change schedules, and council students on academic and financial aid descisions.

Instructors work hard to ensure that their students are getting the most out of the learning experience. In addition to grades and lesson plans, they sponsor the clubs and organizations that relate to their field of knowledge. The Maintance staff keeps Co-Lin's campus looking its best and its buildings up and running.

Wheather you are a visitor at Co-Lin or a student, the administration, faculty and staff are here to ensure that you feel welcome.

Sports
making a statement

Co-Lin's athletes make a statement all year round. From football and soccer to basketball and baseball, Co-Lin's players are busy from August to May...not to mention pre-season training.

The cheerleaders and band come out in full spirit to support the football team and to show everyone what they are made of. The basketball teams seem to always be on the road. The soccer teams worked hard and practiced long. The tennis players are always dedicated to the game. The baseball and softball teams are always fun to watch and the golf team always ahow us star players.

Co-Lin's sporting events are fun not only for the students and faculty, but for the community and Alumni as well. Co-Lin can always count on their support.

Organizations
making a statement

From PTK to Campus Ministry, campus organizations make a statement about Co-Lin's students. To be a member of any one of Co-Lin's many student organizations it takes hard work and dedication in the class room and on campus.

These students provide many services for Co-Lin and for the surrounding Copiah-Lincoln communities. They sponsor and contribute to some of Co-Lin's endowed scholarships. They even help keep Co-Lin's campus clean and decorated through out the different seasons. This year many of the organizations gathered to plant trees for Arbor Day.

Through these organizations, Co-Lin is represented not only community and statewide, but nationwide as well.

Center: Many campus organizations joined to walk in the first annual Dr. Phyllis Lanier Cancer Walk.

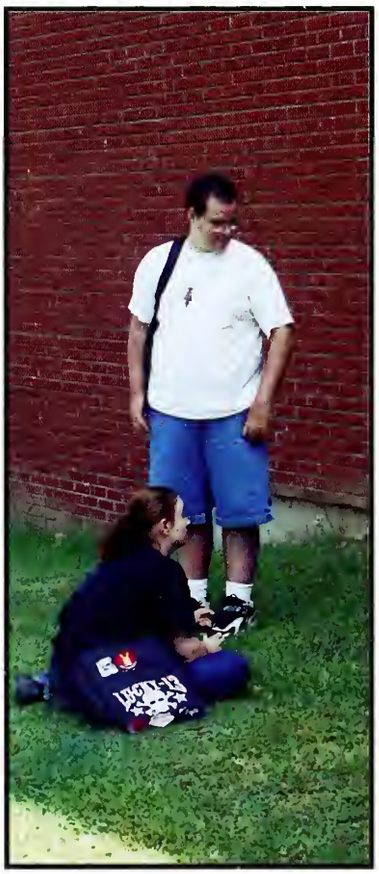
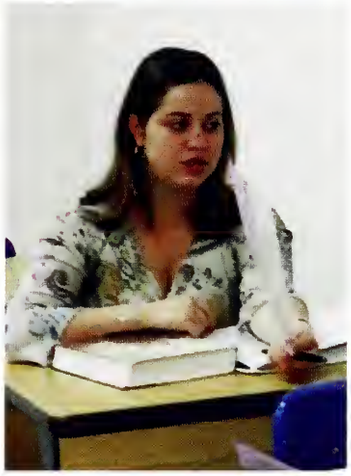
NATCHEZ

CAMPUS



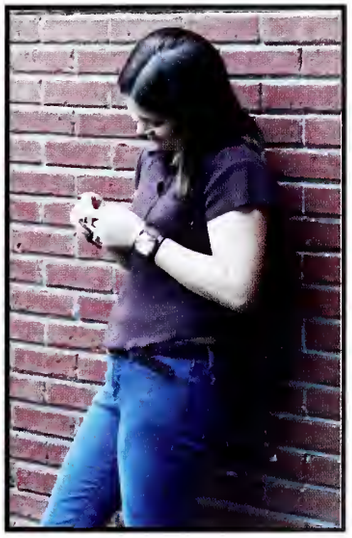


For the first time in our 30 year history, our enrollment at the Co-Lin/Natchez Campus exceeds 800 students. This increase in enrollment proves that "Co-Lin is the place to be."

According to Dr. Ronnie Nettles, dean of the Natchez campus, the increase in enrollment is an indication that our students recognize the value of the education that they will receive at Co-Lin."

Students also like the family atmosphere at Co-Lin. Even though enrollment is at an all-time high, classes are still small enough so that students do not feel like a social security number or just a name on the class roster. They know that they will receive a quality education from a teaching faculty who, as Dr. Nettles said, "is second to none." They also know that instructors, administrators, and staff truly care about them and will do all within their power to help them succeed.

As we begin our school year, we realize that the statements we make about ourselves are reflected in our grades, our attitudes, our behavior, in the friendships we form and in our commitment to become the best possible person we can become. We also realize since the tragedy of 9/11, how short and precious life is and how important it is to honor, and respect others, even if they are different from us. Finally, we realize that it is important to be proud of who we are and what we stand for in life.



Ronald E. Nettles
Dean of the Natchez Campus

Ronald E. Nettles became dean of the Natchez Campus in July 1997. For the three years prior to becoming dean, he served as the Director of Community and Economic Development for Co-Lin, where he was responsible for coordinating the development of customized training and educational programs for business and industry. Nettles, a Natchez native, graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi with a Bachelor of Science degree in Political Science in 1983, and a Master of Education degree in Counseling and Personnel Services in 1986. He received a Ph. D. from the University of Mississippi in Educational Leadership in 1994. Prior to his employment at Co-Lin, Nettles was the Director of Career Planning and Placement at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Nettles is an active member of the Board of Directors for the Natchez Rotary Club and Adams county chapter of the American Red Cross. He is actively involved on the Education Committee of the Natchez-Adams Chamber of Commerce and previously served as a member of the Board of Directors. Nettles is also a member of the Academic Deans Association in Mississippi and the National Council of Instructional Administrators.

Nettles' goal for the Natchez campus is for the college to continue to provide a quality education in a caring environment. He remarked, "Here at the Natchez campus the faculty and staff are dedicated and caring. We take seriously our responsibility to provide each and every student with the best possible education and educational facilities we can. We hope [that everyone in the community] realizes how our small campus is big on student support."

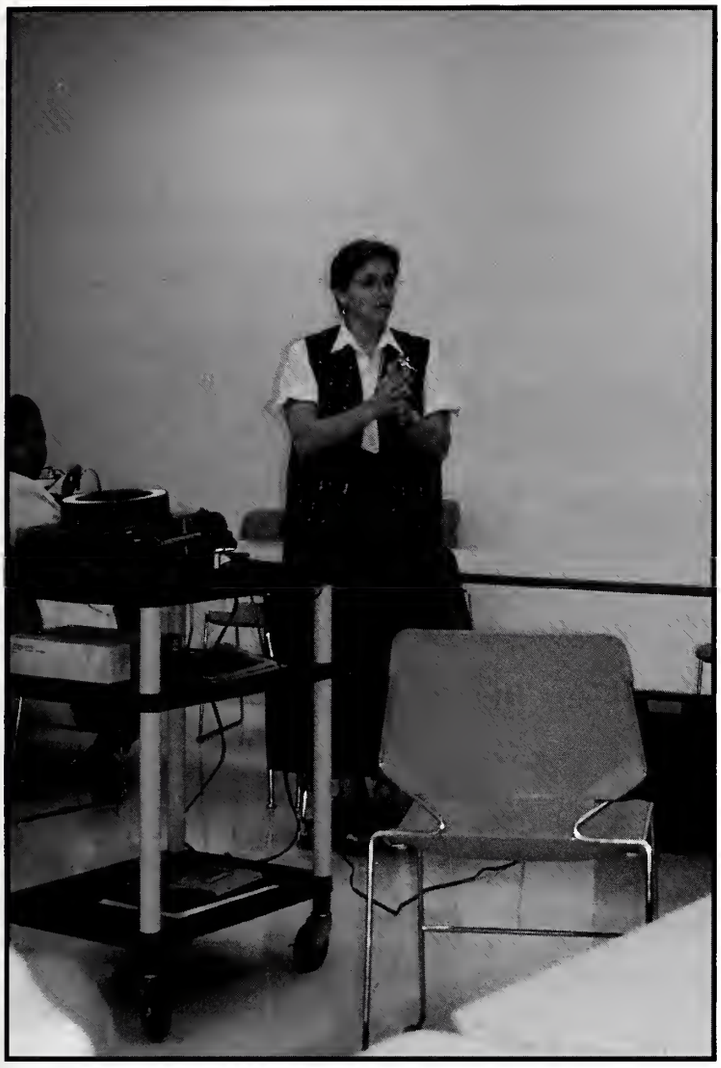
Wonder what the dean is thinking?

Dr. Nettles takes a break from his busy schedule to pose for the camera.



"Mrs. Flynn is an excellent teacher. She challenges and encourages her students."

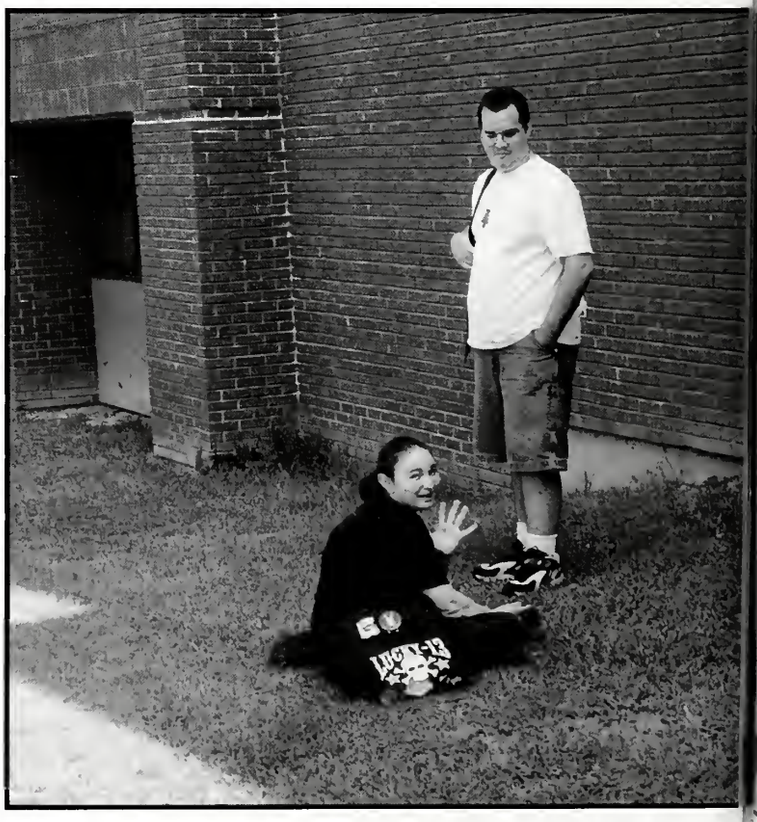
MAKING A STATEMENT ...

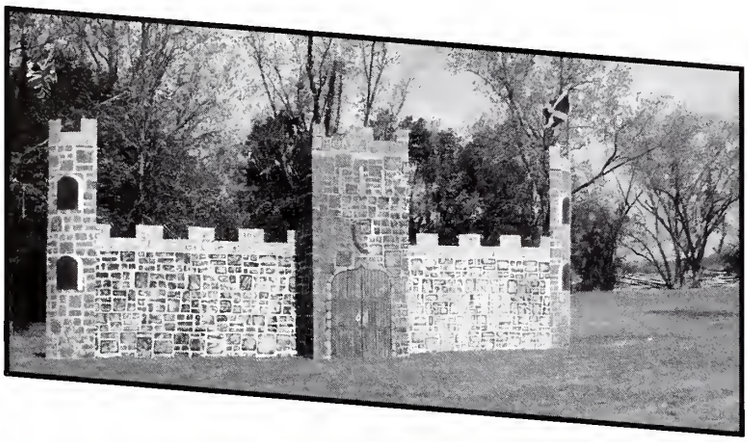


According to Melanie Le Tourneau, psychological research suggests that "we don't know ourselves as well as we think we do." According to her, "Our identities may undergo constant reconstruction. Our surroundings — social feedback, comparison with others, society's perception of our behavior — continually challenge us to redefine ourselves." In other words, our sense of who we are is a social construction.

ABOUT WHO WE ARE

We make statements about who we are in the way we dress, in the way we comb our hair, in the way we play and have fun, in the way we dance and move our bodies to the music, in the way we choose to sing the songs we sing and in the CDs and DVDs we elect to buy, in the friendships we choose to form, in the people we select to call our significant others, and in the paths we choose to follow during our lifetime.

MAKING A STATEMENT ...

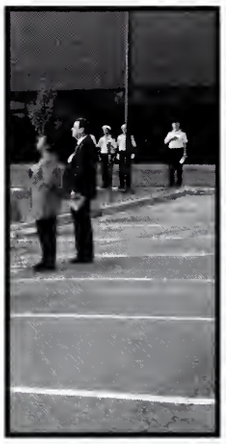


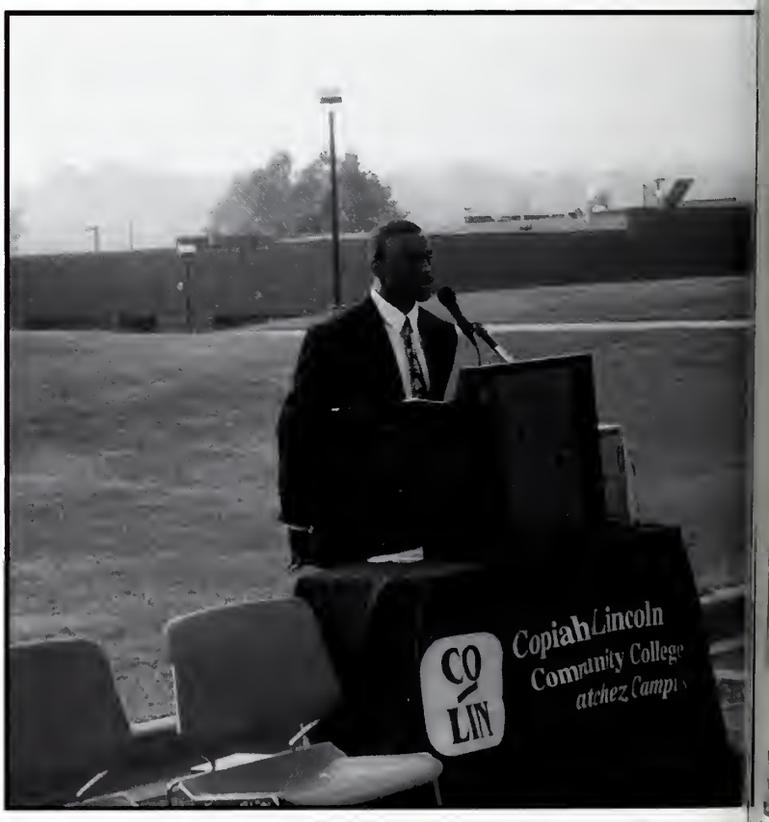
The fourth annual Colinwood Renaissance Faire was held on April 17th. The faire was organized by the English department and designed to educate students at Co-Lin and in the community about the Renaissance era. Participants donned costumes of the area and visitors enjoyed eating the food, getting their palms read, and their fortunes told.

THE RENAISSANCE FAIRE

The word used most often to describe the fourth annual Renaissance Faire was "fun." When asked if they were having an enjoyable time at the event, Steven King and Treneissa Blanton said that they were: King remarked, "I really enjoyed myself. I like the drinks and the bow and arrow." Blanton added that she was having so much fun that she was "looking forward to going next year."

9/11—A YEAR LATER





The terrorist acts of a year ago have touched our lives in so many (negative) ways. There was so much sorrow and pain. Too many lives were lost ... But if there is a positive side, we saw our country unite in a way that many of us have never seen before. The events resulted in a new appreciation for our country and a new awareness of other countries and cultures of the world."

Dean Ronnie Nettles

WE REMEMBER

"Three hundred and sixty five days ago our nation suffered its most severe terrorist attack. Yet, remarkably, we didn't coil into a cocoon of dismay, we didn't sink into cynicism; we didn't allow ourselves to be consumed by hate. Remarkably, we have become a stronger, not weaker nation."

MEN MAKING A STATEMENT

The second annual Womanless Pageant was held October 28 in the W.L. Nelson Multipurpose Room. The theme of this year's show was "The Bold and Beautiful." Four bold but not-so-beautiful male students decided to abandon the pants and don dresses as they competed for the top prize of the hour — a crown.

The annual event was sponsored by Student Support Services and the Student Government Association. Corey Issac served as Master of Ceremony.

The event was described by one N-Sights Staffer . . . as one "with side-splitting humor, raucous showing off, and some of the ugliest legs you've seen in an evening gown."

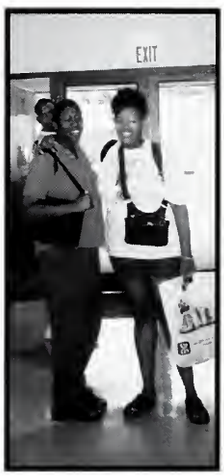
THE WOMANLESS PAGEANT

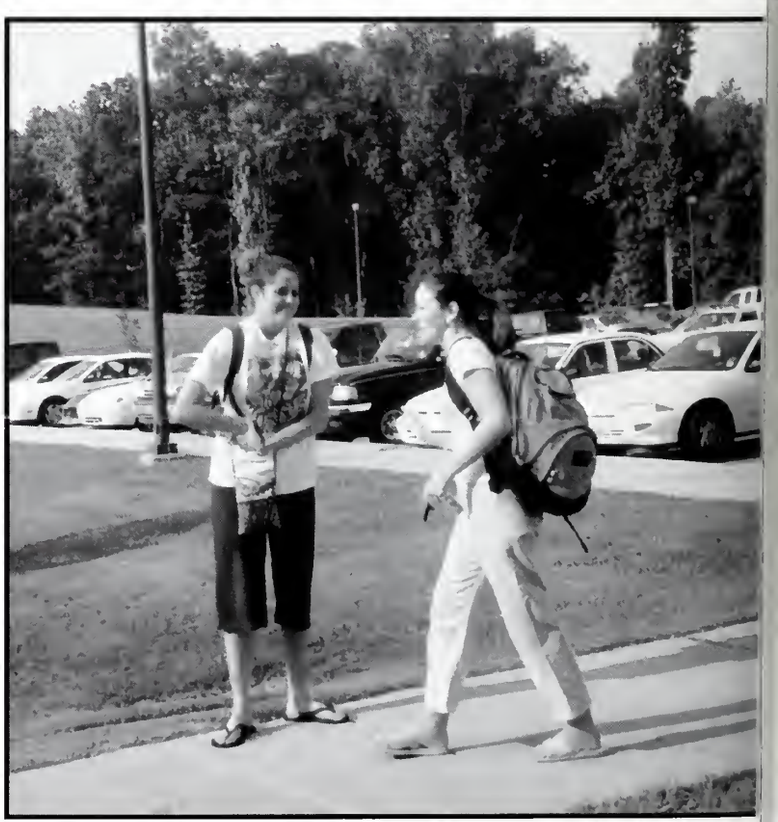
Male participants in the Womanless Pageant were Dorrell Robinson as "D'Licious," Zac Robinson as "Sweet P," Charlie Blanton as "Thisbe," and Ronshelle Jackson as "Madea." Robinson was the winner of the contest.

Faculty members and staff also got in on the fun by competing in the costume portion of the event. Marsha Colson, secretary in the Natchez Literary and Celebration office, won this event with her "Before and After" costume.

Micheal Anderson as Tina Tuner, along with dancers Kimberly Lyles and Candace Fleming brought down the house with their rendition of "Proud Mary."

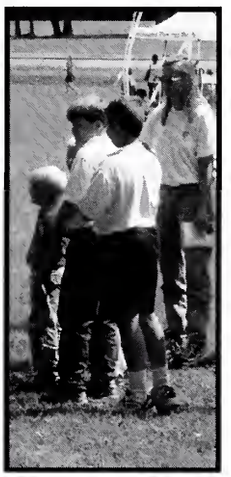
MAKING A STATEMENT

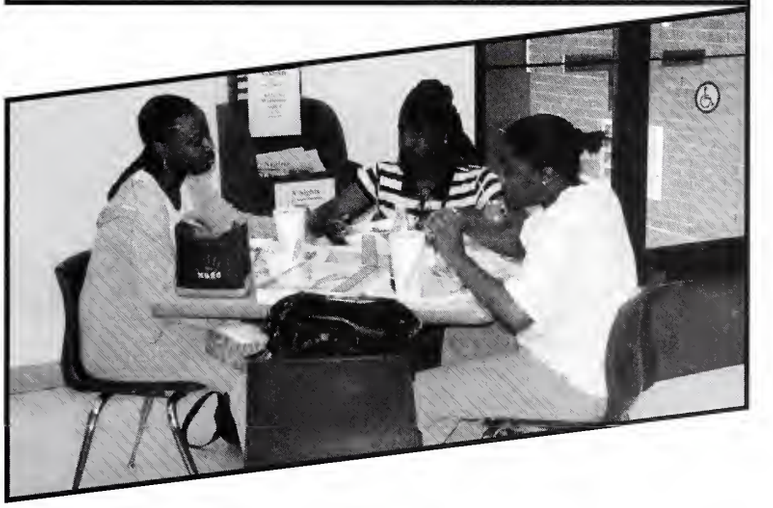




One writer once penned, "Friends are special people. We can't pick our family, and we're sorely limited in the number of them at any rate. Society and mores (and often our own conscience) dictate we select a single mate. But our friends can be as diverse and infinite as the adjectives we choose. Our friends, in a very real sense, reflect the choices [and statements] we make in life."

MY FRIEND





We all need someone
To talk to in our life,
A friend to whom we run
In times of stress or strife
A friend who's always there
Throughout the years,
A friend we know will care
And take away our fears...
